Association Insurance Summary

Overview of the Association's coverage

Policies effective through the 2026–2027 term

Prepared by the Board of Directors, 2026

This is a summary for homeowners, not the insurance policy itself, and it doesn't add to, change, or waive any actual policy term. Coverage is carried with State Farm Fire and Casualty Company. It omits policy numbers and premium figures. For a certificate of insurance, or the current agent's contact information, contact the Board.

What the Association's policies cover

The Association's coverage is carried across two linked State Farm “Residential Community Association” policies (covering different common-area locations within the community) plus a separate crime bond. Each Residential Community Association policy carries the liability limits below; see “What it doesn't cover” for the property side.

Coverage	Limit (each policy, unless noted)
General/Business Liability	$2,000,000 per occurrence
General Aggregate	$4,000,000
Products/Completed Operations Aggregate	$4,000,000
Medical Expenses (any one person)	$5,000
Damage to Premises Rented to You	$300,000
Directors & Officers Liability	$2,000,000 per occurrence / $2,000,000 aggregate
Employee Dishonesty (Crime)	$25,000
Computer Equipment (Inland Marine)	$10,000
Loss of Income & Extra Expense	$10,000

In addition, a separate State Farm Fidelity Bond covers the Association against theft or dishonesty by anyone who handles Association funds, at a $55,000 limit, renewing annually.

Common-area property covered

The Association's policies insure the shared physical structures it owns — entry signs, lamp posts, and mailbox structures — along with the business personal property associated with them, plus two additional scheduled items. Basic deductible: $1,000. Special deductibles apply to money/securities and employee dishonesty ($250 each) and equipment breakdown ($1,000).

What it does not cover

This is the part every owner should know: the Association's policy does not insure individual dwelling units. Villas of Worthington is a single-family planned community (PUD), not a condominium — unlike a condo association, which typically insures the building shells, each homeowner here is individually responsible for insuring their own home's structure, contents, and personal liability (a standard HO-3 homeowner's policy or equivalent). The Association's coverage exists for common areas and the Association's own liability and operations, not as a substitute for your own homeowner's insurance.
