

Welcome to Villas of Worthington

A New Homeowner's Guide

Prepared by the Board of Directors, 2026
North Royalton, Ohio

This packet pulls the highlights new owners ask about most into one place. It is a plain-language summary, not a substitute for the governing documents — if anything here differs from the recorded Declaration, the Bylaws, the Rules & Regulations, or the Design Guidelines, those documents control. Each section below says exactly what it's summarizing and where to find the full text, so you only need to download the underlying document if you want the complete, word-for-word language.

What's in this packet

- The community and the Association, in brief
- Dues and how to pay them
- How the Board works, and how to reach it
- Architectural review (ARC) — what needs approval and how to ask
- A quick-reference summary of the most-asked-about Rules & Regulations
- Insurance — what the Association covers, and what's on you
- The reserve fund, in one paragraph
- Where everything else lives on the website

The community, in brief

Villas of Worthington is a 114-unit planned community (PUD) in North Royalton, Cuyahoga County, Ohio, established in 2007. The Association — Villas at Worthington Homeowners Association, Inc., an Ohio nonprofit corporation — is self-managed by an elected, all-volunteer Board of Directors rather than an outside management company.

Dues

Annual dues are $400 per unit ($33.33/month), unchanged since 2020. Pay assessments and manage your account through the Resident Portal (PayHOA), linked from the homepage. The Board's email doesn't have access to individual account balances — PayHOA is the place for that.

The Board

Three elected seats — President, Treasurer, Secretary — each serving staggered terms. Current officers and their terms are listed on the About page. Board meetings are open to all Members (Bylaws §14); non-Director Members may not participate in Board discussion or deliberation unless the Board expressly authorizes it, and the Board may adjourn into executive session for matters like personnel or pending litigation (Bylaws §15). Reach the Board at board@villasofworthingtonhoa.com for anything not covered by PayHOA.

Architectural review (ARC)

Before any exterior construction, alteration, or modification — additions, fences, patios, sheds, paint/siding changes, landscaping changes, and similar work — submit an ARC Request through the form on the website. Under Declaration §9.2.1, the Board (holding the original plan-approval authority described there, per §9.2.1.3) will approve, reject, or modify a complete request in writing within 30 days after acknowledging receipt; if you don't hear back in that time, the request is deemed approved — though any work must still conform to the Declaration, the Design Guidelines, and applicable City of North Royalton codes and permits. Full architectural standards are in the Design Guidelines (Documents page).

Quick rules reference

Summarized from the Rules & Regulations, adopted by the Board in 2026. The Rules themselves cite the exact Declaration section behind each one — see that document for full text and any exceptions.

Pets — ordinary household pets (dogs, cats, caged birds) are fine; no livestock, poultry, or commercial breeding. Leash or otherwise control pets outside your lot, and clean up after them.

Parking — RVs, trailers, boats, and campers stay in garages, with a 72-hour driveway exception for active loading/cleaning. No junk or unregistered vehicles outside a garage; no parking on lawns or common areas.

Trash & recycling — containers stay out of public view except on collection day; curb placement no earlier than the evening before, back to storage by end of collection day. No outdoor burning.

Noise — keep it considerate, especially 10 p.m.–8 a.m.

Holiday decorations — welcome, but remove within 45 days of the holiday; keep lighting/sound considerate and clear of sidewalks.

Leasing — whole-unit leases only, subject to all governing documents; owners remain responsible for tenants and must give the Association contact info for any lease or sale.

Common areas & open space — ponds, wetlands, and preservation easements stay in natural condition; no dumping, clearing, or altering the surface-water/drainage system.

Insurance

The Association carries liability, crime, and common-area property coverage through State Farm — see the Insurance Summary on the Documents page for the coverage types and limits. Importantly, the Association's policy does not insure individual dwellings: as in most single-family PUDs (unlike a condominium), each owner is responsible for their own homeowner's insurance covering their unit's structure, contents, and personal liability.

The reserve fund, briefly

A professionally studied reserve fund pays for major shared-property replacements (ponds, the paved trail, mailboxes, fencing, entry features) so those costs are planned for in advance rather than surprising anyone. The Finances page has the full picture: current balance, funding plan, and historical spending.

Where everything else lives

This packet summarizes the highlights — you don't need to separately download anything it already covers unless you want the full legal text. Beyond that:

- Documents page — the full Declaration, Bylaws, Rules & Regulations, Design Guidelines, community maps, Reserve Study, this packet, and the Insurance Summary.
- Minutes page — approved Board meeting minutes.
- Finances page — dues, spending history, reserve fund detail.

- Contact page — the Board's email, mailing address, and what to reach out about.
